

What emotions are you feeling?

Primary Emotions are the first emotions children experience, from birth to about 2 years old.

Secondary Emotions begin to develop around 3 years old. They are more complex and depend on children's understanding of rules, social norms, and goals